Interested in Mental Health?

Leeds Mind is a mental health charity, which provides a range of services for people in Leeds who are experiencing distress or recovery from mental health problems. The services of Leeds Mind have grown over the past 30+ years and offer input which complements the statutory health and social care network, whilst retaining a unique and refreshing perspective.

The organisation is a registered charity and as a charity we are permitted to have a membership made up of people who ascribe to the core values and purpose of the charity, which is to promote innovative care practices for people who are experiencing mental health problems.

Leeds Mind welcomes people from all sections of the community and positively encourages applications from people with direct experience of mental distress.
